KEWPORT, BY CHARSTON & NORMAN,

127 TRAKES STREET.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, FEB. 12, 1851.

Gen. James Watson Webb .- There is an unpleasant controversy going on in the New York papers between Gen James Watson Webb and the officers of the Hudson River Rail Road Company. Sofar ar we can judge from a perusal of the correspondence, Gen. Wabb Las entirely the right of the question, and certainly has not recieved the treatment fue to a high-minded man. We shoul , so sooner doubt his word or question his veracity, than we should have surmises as to the credibility of the affidavits of the President of the Company, No man who knows James Watson Withb will for an instant believe him capable of an interested or selfish misrepresentation; and no Company can obtain any honor or profit by allowing its officials to assail his reputation.

We understand that Professor Macy, of Maneachusetts, will deliver a lecture at Bellevue Hall, on Friday evening, commencing at 7 o'clock; on which occasion he will prove, must satisfactorily, the fallacy of Spiritual Rap-Lings, &c., by the most lavid illustrations as to how the Rappings are effected. The lecture will also embrace the subjects of Meamerism, Magnetism, &c. Professor Macy has reduced the price of admission to 12 and a half cents, at the request of many.

Exchanging Polerts.-A few miles below Poughkerpsie there now lives and has lived for several years past, a worthy elergyman, a man, however, very short in stature. Upon a certain Sun day, about eight years ago, this clergyman was invited by the pastor of a checch in that village, to fill his pulpi for the day. The invitation was accepted, and on Sunday morning saw -m the pulpit. Now it happened that the pulpit was a very high one, and accordingly nearly hid the year little clergyman from view. However, the congregation, out of respect, managed to keep their countenances, and with over pious faces, seemed religiously anxious for the text. They were no obliged to walt long, for a nose and two little eyes suddenly appeared over the top of the pulpit, and a in squeaking, the text:-"He of good cheer, it is I ha not afruid." A general rose of laughter followed the announcement-the clergyman became confused, and turned all sorts of colors. Many, in general uproar, left the church, and it was a long time before the minister was enabled to proceed with his sermon, so abruptly broken off.

THE ST. LAWRENCE.-The U. S. frigate St. Lawrence, with the U. S. con tributions to the World's Pair, left New York for Southampton, England, Saturday. The following is a list of her officers:--

Commander, Joshua R. Sands; Lieutenanta; Chas. S. Baggs Lathan B Avery, Wash, Gwathmey, Geo. H. Prehie; Purser, Samuel P. Podd; Surgeon Lewis B. Hunter; Ast. Surgeon, James F. Harrison; Master, Bays N. Westcott; Passed Midshipman, Andrew F. Monroe; Midshipmen, Joseph P. Fylle, Henry Erben, Jr., William T. Glassell; Captain's Clerk, C. S. Livingston; Purser's Clerk, James Todd; Buatswain. John Bater: Gunner, William Arnold; Carpenter, Daniel Jener, Sail Maker, Mobert Hunter.

A VULGARIEM. -- One of the most popular vulgarisms of the day is limbedied in the word "patronage." We have a ways been at a loss to enderstand, this time as incorporated with the language of the times. If a man buys a pair of boots, getting the full value of his money, he calls himself the "patron" of the manufacturer. The purchaser of six cents' worth of tobacco or a penny's worth of tape is a "patron," and lunks upon those on whom he lavishes this "patronage" with a condescending eye. as if he had fed, clothed and sheltered them. One's patron, regarding the terr in its true light, as a yerson who gives one alms. Patronage, in short, is charitable protection. It is no patron age to give money for its tuli value .-The term as now most generally employed, is one of a most service, eyeop. hantic character, and it should be uspunged from the modern vectors buy. Noan's Sanday Timer.

He is just what a Chief Magistrate of a Democratic Republic eught to be—plain, affable, communicative, kind and unostentations.

III A supplement to the Liverpool Journal, of the 18th ult., devotes a column to the recent correspondence butween Mr. Hulsemann, the Austrian Minister at Washington, and the American Secretary of State. After giving an outline of the controversy, including several extracts frem Mr. Webster's letter, the Journal winds up as follows:

"In this way the Republic is practising the phraseology in which, by-nul-by, she is to dictate to despotism, and cheer on everywhere the friends of civilization truth, and freedom. In this dictemetic 'set to,' however, Mr. Webster has the best side of the argument, for he has the law on list lie, while there is a freshness about his courtesy that supprises and pleases. Congress was delighted with the nonliness of the fareign sentetary; and it seems the unwellerme breighter M. Hulsemann's notes excited, reached the attentive cars of the representatives of Russia and Austria, both of said he considered these politions as exwhom were in the House."

IFA man in Michigan not long since committed suicide by drowning himself. As the body could not be found, the coroner held an inquest on the hat and jacket.

NAVAL INTELLIGENCE .-- A letter received in this city from an officer on beard the United States ship St. Mary's dated Rio Janerio, December 18, saya:

"We arrived here on the 8th of this month, after a passage of forty six days, including three days that we remained at Maderia. We were only twenty one days from Maderia to this place-the quickest passage on record, beating an English steamer by two days. All well on board. We shall sail on the 20d for Valparaiso; and it is said that the Cougress will go out with us-no doubt to try which is the fastest vessel of the two. She is going up the river La Plata. The storeship Relief will rail about the same time for New York. The Bainbridge has not yet arrived. The Commodore is expecting her daily,-Rio is very healthy at present."

近字It is said that William the Conquerer introduced into England what wascalled Troy weight, from Troyes, a town in the province of Compagne. The English were dissatisfied with it, because the jound did not weigh so much as the pound then in use m England .-Lienne came the term avoir du poice which was a medium between the French and the ancient English weight.

Paninessas-We do not know who it was that first said the following, but there is much of truth in it, as many of our readers, who have foolishly participated in the unequal chances of the game, may have learned to their cost:

"We object to this one-sided gamethis finding a double almond, sharing it with a lady, and then having to pay a furfeit when next she encounters you .-It's worse than robbery-no foot-pad ever cried 'stand and deliver' with as much nonchalance as do the girls about 'Pailipmna?' If you say it first, the devils have such funny ways to get rid of paying ; some times they will let you beau them to a ball or concert, and cometimes they will pay up like menvery willingly. But the most audacious piece of awindling we ever knew, heard or conceived of, was perpetrated on us. We Philiceneed a girl just as slick as a whistle—she acknowledged caught and with sent us an annuat. The next day

A FAVORITE MYSTERY EXPLODED .--Everybody has heard the story of Mozart's Requiem. The following plain story related by the Paris correspond ent of the Philadelphia Bulletin, makes short work of the whole mystery-a mystery which has given rise to novels, tales, poems, and philosophical treatiers. He says:

The tradition is as follows: Mozart, languishing in his last illness, perceived standing before him one day, a tall mysterinus stranger, dressed in black. How he entered was past comprehension.— He wanted a Requiem, and would pay for it any sum Mozart chose to name.--The money is paid; the music is to be ready in a month. At the appointed hour the stranger appeared, in the same mysterious manner, and the music not being finished, did the same thing a third time. Mozart was certain he had dealt with the devil in person, and died without linishing the peice.

But his heim could find it nowhere .-It disappeared for several years and then was found entirely finished. By whom? This is what the musicians of Germany would have given everything but their ears to know. Time has answered this, as it has many other questions. A certain Count Waldseg. living on the frontiers of Hungary, had gained among the amateurs, and even the artists of his country, a reputation us an able composer. His manner of procceding was simple. He paid the best musicians high prices for being silent as to their authorship of pieces composed for him, and for which he paid high prices. These he published as his own. His wife died.

He thangist the occasion excellent for writing a Requirm, and gave out that he was engaged in composing one. It was his agent who waited on Mozart, and who afterwards got the manuscript Itom Mozart's wife, paying for her s. creey. A puril of the great compoere finished the piece, but so much had been such about it by the friends of Moz or, that he was compelled to give up the project of jubbshing it is his

Mr. Saunders inquired if the Bribery Committee was ready to report, Mr. Dosworth replied that it was not.

The Committee had had one meeting; but a second meeting had been postponed, an an intimation that Mr. Porter could not be present. He learned afterward that Mr. Porter was on the spot with his witnesses.

Mr. Porter said he had only a moment's notice of the first meeting, and he presumed the Committee was not disappointed that he was not ready .--He made great sacrifices to attend the second inceting; but the committee was not there. He understord Friday evening last to be appointed for the third meeting ; and he was here, but the committee was not.

Mr. Bosworth said that no meeting was appointed for Friday evening.

Mr. Hazard hoped the investigation would be proceeded with. He thought we owed it to nurselves to get at the facts, and not to be dependent on mere tumos for our opinions,

Mr. Brown cared very this particular case of bribery, If the House would authorize the committee to expose all the bribery that has been practised in the last eight or ten years he would be glad of it, and had no doubt the committee would find enough

Mr. Davis thought the Honse was fretting itself to much about what was past. He hoped the Committee would be dischnaged.

Henry Clay and the Boatmen .- The ther day three barrels of fluor were chipped from this city, on the pike No. 6 to the Hon. Henry Clay. In filling up. the bill of lading, the clerk inserted in the blank space felt for the price of the freight hese words: "For the love of the man." As our millers have offered to supply Mr. Clay with flour free of cost, and as the steamboats refuse to make any charge for freights, the "Sage of Arhland" need incur very little expense for bread, for the remainder of his life .--These little matters indicate very significantly the prolound hold which he has upon the respect and affections of the people. THE NEW FAMILY HOTEL .- We referred briefly on Saturday to the proposed erection of a hotel for families, Noah's Times contains a more minute description, from which we select a few particulars. Two-thirds of the stock is to be in the hands of those who realie in the hotel. Resident members are to be voted in as in other clubs-three black kalls excluding the applicant. Among the improvements in the etyle of building, there will be a large play-room for young children in an upper story, a suite of school-rooms, and a gymnasium. The central court of the building will be a conservatory, roofed with glass and filled with rare exotics. Meals may be ordered by each family or taken at the table d'hote. The drawing rooms, it is alleged, will be upon a coatly scale, and it is contemplated to engage a band of music for weekly re-unions, to which a limited anumber of the friends of residents will be invited. Each family will have a suite of rooms, with the option of using their own furniture. The present plan is to accommodate fifty families. N. V. Com. Adv.

The following evidence of the efficacy of Dr. 8.

P. TOWNSEINE EXEACT OF SARSATARILLA in Unlassons Diseases, is well worthy the notice of house afflicted with such disagreeable emplions:

New York, August 8, 1850.

Or. S. P. Townseine. Dear Sir: I am most happy to acknowledge that, after suffering for nearly nine years with the Sait Rheum in a very aggravated form, and being abandoned as incorrable by versual of our first physicians, I was finally persuaded to try your farsfamed Sarsaparilla. The effects were soon perceptible, and when I had used iten bottles, formy great surprise I found myself not only cared of that most disagreeable and irritating disease, but may general health was so much improved that it associated any family and friends. Since then I have advised others to make use of your Medicine, and have noticed its wonderful effects curing in numerous diseases, not altogether caused by a bad state of the bloot. ous dileases, not altogether caused by a bad state of the blood.

Yours most respectfully, Mrs. JANE SHAW, 105 Third Averse. P. 5. You have my consent to publish the above; and it will give me great pleasure to state my care personally to any farly that is similarly afficied.

Brockers, June 11, 1850.

Dr. S. P. Townsend—Dear Sir: I was taken sick short a year ago, which was thought by many would result in Consumption. I had used "old De." Jacob Townsend" (as he is called) Saraparilla, which does mano good. I then itted yours, and ammost happy to say it has entirely cured me. I san clerk of Col. JAMES T. "We believe Dr. C. M. Jackson's 'Roofland's German Bitters,' to be a most excellent medicine, and one that should be highly popular in these days of Temperance—for they are altogether Vegetable in their composition, without one drop of Alcoholic Spirits in them. This medicine is innorent, but strengthening in its effects, and richly deserving of an unbounded popularity, which, when it becomes known, it will, no doubt, fully enjoy."

Judge M. M. Nonh said, in his "Weekly Messenger," Jacuary 6, 1850,

"Dr. Hosfland's Gamen Bitters.—Here is a preparation which the leading pressers in the Union appear to be unamnous in recommending, and the teasyn is obvious. It is enade after a preception furnished by one of the most eclebrated physicians of nostern times—the late Dr. Christopher Wilhulm Hoofland, professor to the University of Jena, private physician to the kleg of Prussia, and one of the greatest medical writers Germany has ever produced. He was emphatically the exemy of humbug, and therefore a medicine of which he was the inventor andenderser may be confidently relied on. He specially recommended it in Liver Complaint, Dy-pensia, Dublity, Vertiga, Acidity of the Stomach, Constitution, and all complaints arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, the liver and the intestines. Nine Philadelphia papers express their conviction of its excellence, and several of the editions speak of its effects from their own individual experience. Under these circumstances, we feel warranted, not only in calling the actions of our renders to the present proprietor's (Dr. C. M. Jackson's) preparation, but in recommending the article to all fifticel."

The editor saws of
DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS:

The editor says of DR. HOOFL SNDS GERMAN BITTERS:

"It is seldon that we recommend what are termed Patent Medicines to the confidence and patronage of our readers; and, therefore, when we wish it to be distinctly understood that we are not speaking of the metrums of the day, that are unised about for a brief period and then foregotten after it has done its guilty race of mischief, but of a medicine long established, universally prized, and which has met the hearty approbation of the faculty itself."

Evidence upon evidence has been received (like the pergoins) from all rectings of the Union, the lart three years, and the strongest testimony in its tryor, is, that there is more of it used in the practice of the regular Physicians of Philadelphia, than all other nestrams combined, a fact that can easily be established, and fully proving that a recentific perporation will meet with their quiet approval when presented even in this form.

That this medicine will cue hiter Complaint and Dyspepsia, no one can dech after using it as directed. It acts specifically upon the stomach and liver; it is preferable to calonnel in all bilions directed. It acts specifically upon the stomach and teliable benefit, at any time.
